

CODE OF CONDUCT

- Partners

Norwegian
Helsinki Committee

Approved by the management group of the Norwegian Helsinki Committee May 7th 2021

Introduction

The Norwegian Helsinki Committee (NHC) is committed to upholding human rights and rule of law and therefore expects that NHC's subgrantees and subcontractors (hereafter Project Partners) share our core values and comply with the minimum standards of legal and ethical conduct described in this document.

By signing off this Code of Conduct, the project partner agrees: 1. To comply with the standards indicated in this document 2. That this Code of Conduct and any changes to this Code of Conduct are provided to relevant employees and contractors who are involved in NHC-project related activities and 3. That such employees and contractors are aware of the obligations that apply under this Code of Conduct.

Any violation of this Code of Conduct by persons working for or on behalf of the project partner may lead to relevant legal measures, including termination of contractual relationship(s) as well as all related contracts.

Diversity

NHC has zero tolerance towards any form of discrimination, harassment and/or bullying whether verbal, physical, sexual or visual. Therefore, a project partner shall treat everyone in its organisation with respect and equally, irrespective of gender, pregnancy, leave in connection with childbirth or adoption, care responsibilities, religion, belief, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, national origin, descent, skin colour and language, or combinations of these factors. In all projects, and particularly in projects implemented with support from the NHC, a project partner shall treat all project beneficiaries and stakeholders with respect and equally, irrespective of gender, pregnancy, leave in connection with childbirth or adoption, care responsibilities, religion, belief, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, national origin, descent, skin colour and language, or combinations of these factors.

Corruption and Money Laundering

Project partners shall respect relevant laws and show zero tolerance for any form of corruption, bribery, fraud, facilitation payments, illegal gratuities or other illegal benefits. In cases of conflict between national and international law, international law prevails. Project Partners must never take part in or support money laundering in any form.

Respect for Laws and Human Rights

Project partners shall respect universal human rights, comply with relevant laws and standards, UN and ILO conventions and provide their employees with a safe and healthy workplace. In cases of conflict between national and international law, international law prevails.

Conflict of Interest

NHC expects its project partners to avoid creating or being subject to conflicting loyalties. Project partners must consider carefully, address and inform NHC of any actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest.

Financial Integrity and Compliance

Project partners must always use allocated funds in line with the project documents approved by NHC, provide NHC with accurate financial as well as any project related information. Submissions made to NHC (such as reports, contracts, payment requests and other) shall be complete and accurate. Project partners must comply with NHC’s project framework agreements, terms and conditions and other governing documents.

Confidentiality

Information received in connection with cooperation and/or project-based relationship(s) with NHC shall be kept confidential unless prior written consent has been obtained from NHC. Duty to confidentiality remains after cooperation and/or project-based relationship(s) with NHC has been completed.

Intellectual Rights and Privacy

Project partners are responsible for respecting and protecting intellectual property rights of NHC and others and complying with applicable personal data protection regulations and requirements.

Whistleblowing

NHC encourages everyone who becomes aware of any conduct or situation in breach of this Code of Conduct, involving or related to the NHC, its project partners or activities, to immediately report to NHC’s relevant Project Manager or the Head of Programmes at email. We ask you to provide us with accurate and full information. NHC will take necessary measures to ensure confidentiality of any whistleblower to protect her/him from possible retaliation.

By signing this document, we declare that we have read carefully and comply with this Code of Conduct for NHC project partners. We are aware that NHC may conduct an audit and/or evaluation of compliance of our practices with the standards laid down above.
